

To the Executive Director,

Your organization has come to the attention of the Fighting4Families online advocacy network. To learn more about this action please visit www.fighting4families.webs.com

What has happened?

1) Fighting4Families has received concerns from several “clients” and launched a public awareness campaign in your area.

Or

2) A supporter has directed this online notice to your organization with regards to services and/or activity alleged to have occurred with regards to “client” interactions within your organization.

Fighting4Families acknowledges and supports the need for protection of children from all forms of abuse. This includes the abuse and trauma that may occur while children undergo the lengthy and painful ordeal of being in the child protection system. As we are sure everyone in your organization, including yourself, will agree, matters involving the lives and well being of children must be dealt with in a professional, ethical, and lawful way. Holding all those responsible for any abuse whether emotional, physical, or sexual occurring in their family home, care giver facility, or other organization associated with the protection and care of children.

With the lack of oversight and accountability within the child protection system at present, it is imperative that professionalism, honesty, and lawfulness be employed by all, until formal oversight can be established, which we are sure you support, as oversight and accountability can only be “in the best interest of the child” and better the present system.

Please be advised that we are only offering this online service, in order to ensure you are aware of opinions of the public you are mandated to serve. We hope that this will only serve to prompt your attention in an attempt to better the child protection system in your area.

Supporter,

Fighting4Families
